Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Jeffrey (2,331,694). Jeffrey discloses an axial piston machine with cylinder bores 56 arranged in a cylinder drum 28, pistons 36 which are axially movable in the cylinder bores 56, and springs 34,35 arranged in the cylinder bores 56, wherein each piston 36 is pre-stressed against a swash plate 52 by a respective spring 34,35 which is supported against the cylinder drum 28, each spring 34,35 has a reduction in diameter between the upper and lower end, each of the springs 34,35 is a helical compression spring and in that the reduction in diameter reduces the diameter of the course of the outer contour of the helical compression spring in a radially symmetrical circle at each point of the center axis of the helical compression spring, the reduction in diameter is arranged coaxially with the centre axis of the helical compression spring, the reduction in diameter reduces the course of the outer contour of the helical compression spring concavely, the reduction in diameter reduces the diameter of the course of the outer contour of the helical compression spring most greatly at the height of the centre of the helical compression spring, the reduction in diameter extends from the upper end to the lower end of the helical compression spring, the cylinder drum 28 is pre-stressed against a control plate by the helical compression springs, each helical compression spring is supported in the region around an opening of the cylinder bore, which can be connected to a high pressure or low pressure connection, each piston has a cutout which opens towards the cylinder bore, the cutout is cylindrical, the helical compression spring is supported against the respective base of the cutout, each helical compression spring is made from and/or coated with spring steel. See Jeffrey page 1, left col., lines 35-46 and page 3, left col., lines 3-4.
